It's been a well-kept secret... but now, we're taking off the wraps.

In President Stuart Gulley's first few months at LaGrange College, he said that one of his goals is to begin removing the "veil of anonymity" that surrounds LaGrange College, one of Georgia's oldest independent institutions of higher learning.

President Gulley said the College's involvement with the 1997 Olympic athletes made him aware that the College's visibility and name recognition overseas may now be greater than it is in Georgia.

"We have the exciting challenge of letting persons in Georgia, the Southeast and the country know the gem LaGrange College is," President Gulley said.

LaGrange College has been a well-kept secret. Now it's time to take the wraps off.

Mike Dunn
"The weight room."

Miriam Harris
"The teachers."

What do you think is the best kept secret about LaGrange College?

Courtney Pierce
"Togetherness."

Nicole Darr
"The Greek System."

friends

There are many reasons that LaGrange College should not be kept a secret, students interviewed said. The campus here is small enough that almost everyone knows everyone else. People are friendly and it's easy to make friends in class or just sitting on the patio.

faculty

Many students say they chose LaGrange College because of its size. They reasoned that a smaller college would offer smaller classes and more personal contact with their professors ... and they found they were right. Faculty and staff are willing to spend time during or after classes talking to their students and the students appreciate feeling they are "part of a family."

dorm life

A very real part of the college experience for the traditional student is living in a college dorm. LaGrange College students appreciate the quality of their buildings and love to share time, clothing and food with their newfound friends.

lc campus

The LaGrange College campus should not be kept a secret. "It's beautiful," student after student interviewed on the Quad said. Seasonal plantings enhance the architecture of historic Smith Hall, the chapel built with elements from the old First United Methodist Church, or newer structures such as the Lamar Dodd Art Center.

parking

Students said parking should be a well-kept secret. For classes after 8 a.m., students arrive on campus at least an hour ahead of time to fight for a parking spot on the hill.

Outstanding Alumni

LaGrange College has named five honorees to its "Wall of Outstanding Alumni" for the 1997-98 academic year. They are Lee Elizabeth Crowe of Glendale, Calif., Mary Lynn Faress of LaGrange, Dr. Michael F. Forsolono of Weston, Fla., Dr. Hajime Otani of Mt. Pleasant, Mich. and Nancy Kight Stevens of LaGrange.

The "Wall of Outstanding Alumni" is displayed on the second floor of Historic Smith Hall just outside the Admission Office. All whose portraits are presented on the wall have distinguished themselves in their chosen professions and in their communities. The current photographs of the honorees will be featured on the plaque until October, at which time five other alumni will be named.

Crowe, who graduated from LaGrange College in 1981 with a bachelor of arts degree in art, is a special effects animator who has received screen credits on several films. Her credits include an animated version of "The King and I," "Quest for Camelot," "Space Jam," "Cats Don't Dance" and "The Pagemaster". She also worked on a cartoon insert in "Jurassic Park," and her creative talents can be seen in "The Little Mermaid" and "The Rescuers Down Under." Crowe is a charter member of Women in Animation and was listed in "Outstanding Young Women of America" in 1984. She received an applied arts degree in animation from Sheridan College in Ontario, Canada, and is continuing her education at Brandes Art Institute and the American Animation Institute. Crowe also participates with Project Angelfood, a service that provides hot meals to homebound people with AIDS in southern California.

Faress, who received the master of business administration degree from LaGrange College in 1992, is the vice president of West Georgia Health System Inc. She oversees operations of the Florence Hand Home, Hospice LaGrange, dialysis, rehab services, dietary, assisted living, Coleman Community Health Center and volunteer services. She earned a bachelor of science in nursing degree from the Medical College of Georgia and is a graduate of St. Vincent Hospital School of Nursing. A member of The Council of LaGrange College, Faress is a member of Sigma Theta Tau, an international nursing society, and is president of the LaGrange Lions Club.

Forsolono, a LaGrange College graduate who received the bachelor of arts degree in chemistry in 1960, is senior director of pulmonary research for Baker Norton Pharmaceuticals Inc., IVAX Corporation. He has 19 years experience in the pharmaceutical industry.

named to Wall of Fame with major involvement in clinical and basic research, management and international coordination of drug development. Dr. Frosolono also has 14 years experience in full-time academic based biomedical research. Numerous articles by Dr. Frosolono have appeared in medical journals. He earned a doctoral degree in biochemistry from the University of North Carolina in 1966 and received a post-doctoral research fellowship from Albert Einstein College of Medicine in the Interdepartmental Institute for Training in Research in the Behavioral and Neurological Sciences.

Dr. Otani, who earned a bachelor of arts degree in social work and psychology in 1982, is a professor of psychology at Central Michigan University, director of the undergraduate program in psychology and director of the Lifespan Development Research Center. The author of many scholarly publications and active in professional organizations, Dr. Otani recently was the session chair at several meetings of the Southern Society for Philosophy and Psychology. He received a doctor of philosophy degree in psychology from the University of Georgia.

Stevens, who earned a bachelor of arts degree in elementary education in 1971 and a master's degree in elementary education in 1974, is the principal of West Side Magnet School. Under her leadership, West Side has been selected as one of 36 national Arts Partner Schools. Her sixth year educational specialist in elementary education is from Auburn University. She received her educational leadership degree from West Georgia College and Columbus College.

Stevens is on the administrative board and board of trustees of First United Methodist Church of LaGrange.

She is a member of the LaGrange Junior Service League, the Lafayette Society for the Performing Arts and Delta Kappa Gamma. She has had an article published in "Mathematics Teacher."

LaGrange College is the greatest!

Things worth shouting about: friends...

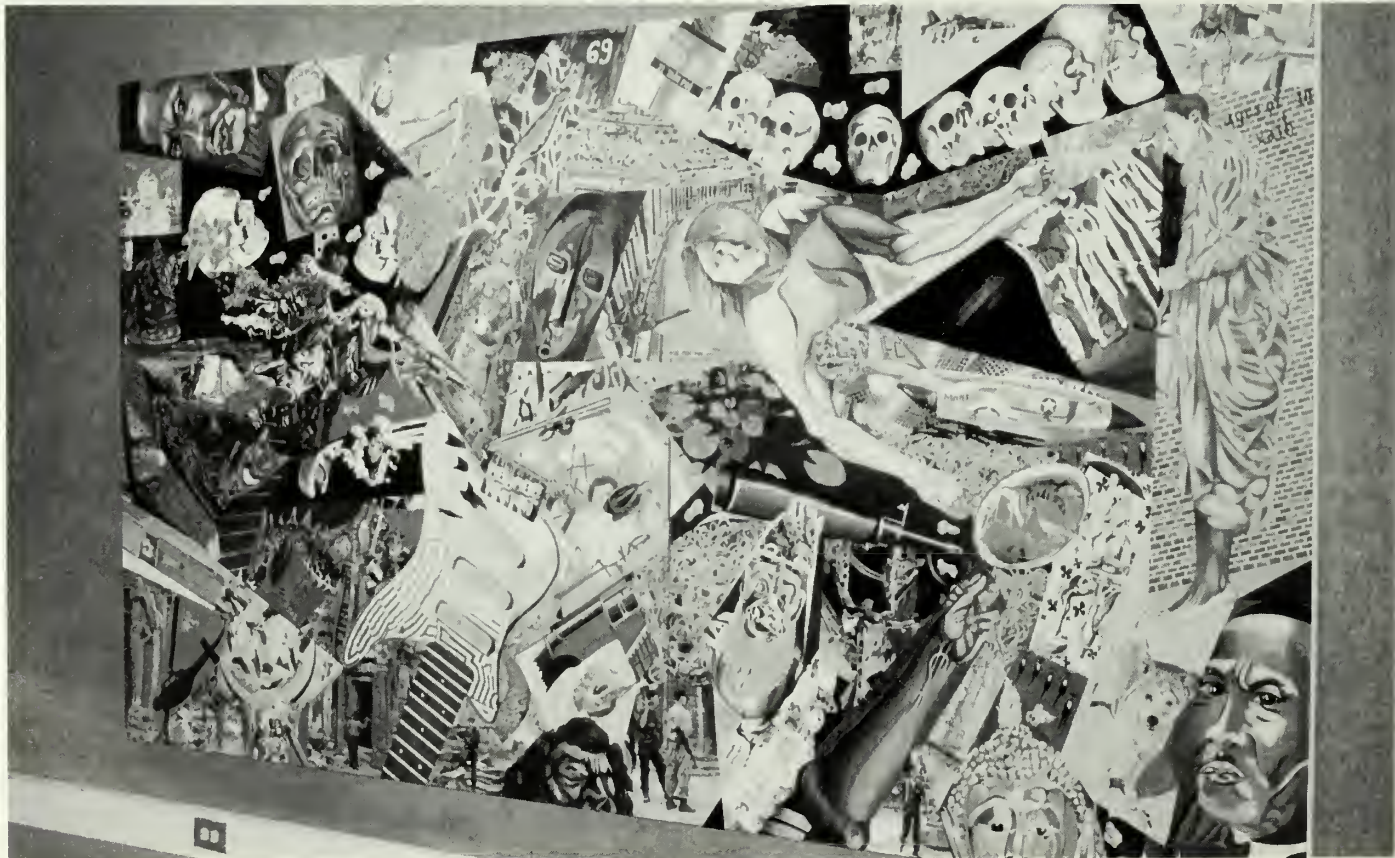

...a great campus...

...classes and faculty....

and spending time
hanging out.
